Dear Gerard

Thank you so much for fundraising for Cancer Research UK and your recent donations of £2,367.95 (including £260 match funding) raised by those taking part in the Chatsworth Challenge Walk 2016.

Cancer Research UK pioneers life-saving research to bring forward the day when all cancers are cured. We don't receive government funding for our research, so every step we make towards beating cancer relies on every pound donated. That's why your help is so important.

Right now, in Yorkshire, over 200 staff at the Cancer Research UK Leeds Centre are working on a variety of groundbreaking research projects such as identifying the genes responsible for malignant melanoma and the role sunburn plays in this. Research at the Leeds centre is also investigating ways to stimulate a patient's immune system so that it recognises and specifically targets cancer cells. This group of scientists are also finding ways of potentially using viruses to fight cancer cells.

Thanks to you we are making progress. In the last 40 years cancer survival rates have doubled – today half of those with cancer will survive. Our vision is bold, we want to accelerate progress and see three-quarters of people surviving the disease within the next 20 years.

Thank you again for organising such a wonderful event and to all those who took part and raised money. With your continued support we will beat cancer sooner.

Yours sincerely,

You've paid a great tribute to Dave Owens and Frank Goodall

Dear Friends,

Thank you very much for raising a kind donation of £2,107.95 sent in memory of Dave and Frank. We'd like you to know how much we appreciate the fact that you've chosen to support Macmillan at this time. We hope it will be of some comfort to know that your generous gift will help improve the lives of people with cancer and their families.

Macmillan believes that no one should have to face cancer alone, and thanks to your support, we can be there for many more people affected by cancer.

Your donation is special

Your donation will help us to fund more nurses and therapists to help people through cancer treatment. It will help us to provide more information and support centres offering free and confidential advice. It will support us in our campaigns to improve cancer care and fight discrimination. Your donation will help us be there for patients, carers, families and communities every step of the way.

I hope you find this to be a fitting tribute to the memory of Dave and Frank.

There are many ways people can support Macmillan and you'll find some of these in the Remember. Celebrate. Change lives booklet enclosed. It also gives advice on setting up a tribute fund, which we can help you with at macmillan.tributefunds.com

Thank you again for being part of the Macmillan team.

With best wishes,
